JOB DESCRIPTION

A Technology Blue Business Analyst plays a critical role in the success of client engagements. Our Business Analysts are well-disciplined liaisons between development teams and stakeholders, and experience a high-degree of accountability for solution effectiveness, accuracy and performance. We are looking for a Senior Business Analyst to join our national consultancy practice to lead the analysis tasks for our client engagements.

An ideal candidate will have 5 years of professional experience leading business analysis efforts for highly-visible IT projects. He or she will have experience with common analysis approaches, tools and technologies, exhibit comfort when engaging internal and external resources to elicit requirements, and possess the discipline and experience to distinguish requests from needs.

An exceptional candidate will have experience translating project scope into tasks and deliverables, serving as a critical point of accountability for project success, and have multi-industry experience to draw from when processing data and information. A Technology Blue Senior Business Analyst is a natural leader with a presence that elicits trust, confidence and responsibility.

Additional desired skills and experience:

- Exemplary customer-facing skills
- Exemplary written skills
- Expertise in UML, use-cases and sequence diagrams
- Work autonomously with client stakeholders
- Willingness and desire to lead
